

Sgt. John James Carey 1069049 RAFVR

John Carey was a mid-upper gunner killed in action three days after arriving at a Lincolnshire bomber squadron.

He was part of the crew of 166 Squadron Lancaster PD261 AS-S, which is believed to have been shot down by a night fighter over the target area during a raid on the Polish city of Stettin on the night of 29/30 August 1944. There were no survivors.

John and his crew had arrived at 166's base at Kirmington on 26 August and this was their first operation with the squadron. They took off at 2110 hours as part of a force of 402 Lancasters and 1 Mosquito; the total loss for this mission was 23 Lancasters.

John, who was born in Islington, was the 31-year-old husband of Lillian Carey of Liverpool. He is buried together with the other crew members in Poznan's Old Garrison Cemetery (pictured above). The others who died were the pilot Flt. Lt. Frederick Dunton, flight engineer Sgt. Charles Murray, navigator Flt. Sgt. Robert Harding RAAF, bomb-aimer Sgt. Trevor Davis, wireless operator Flt. Sgt. David Powers RAAF and rear gunner Sgt. James Peake.

John's name can be found on panel 017.
