

FS Peter Fini Pentland Enna 923289 RAFVR

Peter was born on 9 December 1920 in Scarborough, North Yorkshire, the son of Fini George Alexander Enna and Margaret Minikoi Cass Enna nee Smith. His father, Danish by birth, was a chemist who travelled the world with his family, and as a child Peter spent time in Brazil and India. By the outbreak of war, he was employed as a Laboratory Assistant in Croydon, Surrey.

Although 13 Squadron was an army support unit, it was co-opted to Bomber Command throughout the period for which the "Thousand Bomber" raids were taking place. The squadron mainly flew intruder raids to key German aerodromes in an effort to neutralise the German night-fighter effort. The Sqn arrived at RAF Wattisham at 19:00 on 25 May 1942 from RAF Detling. On 28 May, they were put on immediate readiness for "Intruder Operations".

The night of the 1/2 June 1942 was planned as the second "1000" bomber raids, this time the target was Essen. In a major effort to help the bomber force, 48 Blenheims of 2 Group and Army Co-Operation Command were sent out to intrude over German airfields in an effort to disrupt the Nachtjagd activities.

Peter, operating as the Observer, and the crew departed at 22:35 on 1 June 1942 in Blenheim IV Z6186 (E), tasked with an intruder operation against Venlo Aerodrome, Holland. This was one of 6 squadron aircraft despatched on this mission.

Whilst en-route, the aircraft was coned by the 11./III./Flak-Regiment 26 and hit by the 3./Reserve-Flak-Abteilung 646 south of Rheinberg, Nordrhein-Westfalen. The aircraft crashed close to a railway line which ran through a farm at Graft near Rheinberg. The Wehrmacht sealed off the crash site and the bodies of the crew were taken to the mortuary at Rheinberg Hospital from where they were handed over to the Wehrmacht for burial.

Three Blenheims were lost this night, this was the only one from 13 Sqn.

Also killed were: Flt Lt Douglas Grant Redman (Pilot); FS Thomas Frederick Trimmer (WOp/AG)

Peter is buried with his crew in a collective grave in Reichswald Forest War Cemetery, Nordrhein-Westfalen Germany. His remains were transferred in July 1947 from his original burial place in the Annaberg Cemetery, Kreis Wesel, Nordrhein-Westfalen Germany.

Peter is commemorated on Wall Panel 161
